(M) "Research" means a methodical investigation into a subject.

(N) "Routine" means common place, regular, habitual, or ordinary.

(O) "Routine information that is maintained for the purpose of internal office administration, the use of which would not adversely affect a person" as that phrase is used in division (F) of section 1347.01 of the Revised Code means personal information relating to the board's employees that is maintained by the board for administrative and human resource purposes.

(P) "System" has the same meaning as defined by division (F) of section 1347.01 of the Revised Code.

(Q) "Upgrade" means a substantial redesign of an existing system for the purpose of providing a substantial amount of new application functionality, or application modifications that would involve substantial administrative or fiscal resources to implement, but would not include maintenance, minor updates and patches, or modifications that entail a limited addition of functionality due to changes in business or legal requirements.

Procedures for accessing confidential personal information.

For personal information systems, whether manual or computer systems, that contain confidential personal information, the board shall do the following:

(A) Criteria for accessing confidential personal information. Personal information systems of the board are managed on a "need-to-know" basis whereby the information owner determines the level of access required for an employee of the board to fulfill his/her job duties. The determination of access to confidential personal information shall be approved by the employee's supervisor and the information owner prior to providing the employee with access to confidential personal information within a personal information system. The board shall establish procedures for determining a revision to an employee's access to confidential personal information upon a change to that employee's job duties including, but not limited to, transfer or termination. Whenever an employee's job duties no longer require access to confidential personal information in a personal information system, the employee's access to confidential personal information shall be removed.

(B) Individual's request for a list of confidential personal information. Upon the signed written request of any individual for a list of confidential personal information about the individual maintained by the board, the board shall do all of the following:

- (1) Verify the identity of the individual by a method that provides safeguards commensurate with the risk associated with the confidential personal information;
- (2) Provide to the individual the list of confidential personal information that does not relate to an investigation about the individual or is otherwise not excluded from the scope of Chapter 1347. of the Revised Code; and
- (3) If all information relates to an investigation about that individual, inform the individual that the board has no confidential personal information about the individual that is responsive to the individual's request.

(C) Notice of invalid access.

- (1) Upon discovery or notification that confidential personal information of a person has been accessed by an employee for an invalid reason, the board shall notify the person whose information was invalidly accessed as soon as practical and to the extent known at the time. However, the board shall delay notification for a period of time necessary to ensure that the notification would not delay or impede an investigation or jeopardize homeland or national security. Additionally, the board may delay the notification consistent with any measures necessary to determine the scope of the invalid access, including which individuals' confidential personal information invalidly was accessed, and to restore the reasonable integrity of the system.

"Investigation" as used in this paragraph means the investigation of the circumstances and involvement of an employee surrounding the invalid access of the confidential personal information. Once the board determines that notification would not delay or impede an investigation, the board shall disclose the access to confidential personal information made for an invalid reason to the person.

(2) Notification provided by the board shall inform the person of the type of confidential personal information accessed and the date(s) of the invalid access.

(3) Notification may be made by any method reasonably designed to accurately inform the person of the invalid access, including written, electronic, or telephone notice.

(D) Appointment of a data privacy point of contact. The board director shall designate an employee of the board to serve as the data privacy point of contact. The data privacy point of contact shall work with the chief privacy officer within the office of information technology to assist the board with both the implementation of privacy protections for the confidential personal information that the board maintains and compliance with section 1347.15 of the Revised Code and rules adopted pursuant to the authority provided by that chapter.

(E) Completion of a privacy impact assessment. The board director shall designate an employee of the board to serve as the data privacy point of contact who shall timely complete the privacy impact assessment form developed by the office of information technology.

Valid reasons for accessing confidential personal information.

Pursuant to the requirements of division (B)(2) of section 1347.15 of the Revised Code, this rule contains a list of valid reasons, directly related to the board's exercise of its powers or duties, for which only employees of the board may access confidential personal information (CPI) regardless of whether the personal information system is a manual system or computer system.

(A) Performing the following functions constitute valid reasons for authorized employees of the board to access confidential personal information:

- (1) Responding to a public records request;
- (2) Responding to a request from an individual for the list of CPI the board maintains on that individual;
- (3) Administering a constitutional provision or duty;
- (4) Administering a statutory provision or duty;
- (5) Administering an administrative rule provision or duty;
- (6) Complying with any state or federal program requirements;
- (7) Processing or payment of claims or otherwise administering a program with individual participants or beneficiaries;
- (8) Auditing purposes;
- (9) Licensure or eligibility for examination processes;
- (10) Investigation or law enforcement purposes;
- (11) Administrative hearings;
- (12) Litigation, complying with an order of the court, or subpoena;
- (13) Human resource matters (e.g., hiring, promotion, demotion, discharge, salary/compensation issues, leave requests/issues, time card approvals/issues);
- (14) Complying with an executive order or policy;

- (15) Complying with a board policy or a state administrative policy issued by the department of administrative services, the office of budget and management or other similar state agency; or
- (16) Complying with a collective bargaining agreement provision.

Confidentiality statutes.

The following federal statutes or regulations or state statutes make personal information maintained by the board confidential and identify the confidential personal information within the scope of rules promulgated by this board in accordance with section 1347.15 of the Revised Code:

- (A) Social security numbers: 5 U.S.C. 552a., unless the individual was told that the number would be disclosed.
- (B) "Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Information" criminal records check results: section 4776.04 of the Revised Code

Restricting and logging access to confidential personal information in computerized personal information systems.

For personal information systems that are computer systems and contain confidential personal information, the board shall do the following:

- (A) Access restrictions. Access to confidential personal information that is kept electronically shall require a password or other authentication measure.
- (B) Acquisition of a new computer system. When the board acquires a new computer system that stores, manages or contains confidential personal information, the board shall include a mechanism for recording specific access by employees of the board to confidential personal information in the system.
- (C) Upgrading existing computer systems. When the board modifies an existing computer system that stores, manages or contains confidential personal information, the board shall make a determination whether the modification constitutes an upgrade. Any upgrades to a computer system shall include a mechanism for recording specific access by employees of the board to confidential personal information in the system.
- (D) Logging requirements regarding confidential personal information in existing computer systems.
 - (1) The agency shall require employees of the board who access confidential personal information within computer systems to maintain a log that records that access.
 - (2) Access to confidential information is not required to be entered into the log under the following circumstances:
 - (a) The employee of the board is accessing confidential personal information for official board purposes, including research, and the access is not specifically directed toward a specifically named individual or a group of specifically named individuals.
 - (b) The employee of the board is accessing confidential personal information for routine office procedures and the access is not specifically directed toward a specifically named individual or a group of specifically named individuals.

- (c) The employee of the board comes into incidental contact with confidential personal information and the access of the information is not specifically directed toward a specifically named individual or a group of specifically named individuals.
 - (d) The employee of the board accesses confidential personal information about an individual based upon a request made under either of the following circumstances:
 - (i) The individual request confidential personal information about himself/herself.
 - (ii) The individual makes a request that the board takes some action on that individual's behalf and accessing the confidential personal information is required in order to consider or process that request.
- (3) For purposes of this paragraph, the board may choose the form or forms of logging, whether in electronic or paper formats.

(E) Log management. The board shall issue a policy that specifies the following:

- (1) Who shall maintain the log;
- (2) What information shall be captured in the log;
- (3) How the log is to be stored; and
- (4) How long information kept in the log is to be retained.

Nothing in this rule limits the board from requiring logging in any circumstance that it deems necessary.

Personal information systems.

(A) The board executive director shall be directly responsible for each personal information system maintained by the section. The director shall:

- (1) Inform all employees who have any responsibility for the operation or maintenance of said system or the use of personal information maintained in the system, of the applicable provisions of Chapter 1347. of the Revised Code and rules adopted there under; and,
- (2) Inform all persons requested to supply personal information for a system whether or not they are legally required to provide such information; and,
- (3) Restrict the collection, maintenance and use of personal information to only that which is necessary and relevant to functions of the board as required or authorized by statute, ordinance, code or rule; and,
- (4) Provide all persons, asked to supply personal information that will be placed in an interconnected or combined system, with information relevant to the system, including the identity of all other agencies or organizations that have access to the information in the system; and,
- (5) Allow a person who is the subject of a record in a personal information system to inspect the record pursuant to section 1347.08 of the Revised Code. Upon the request and verification that the person requesting access to the record is the subject of information contained in the system, the employee shall:
 - (a) Inform the person of any personal information in the system of which they are the subject;
 - (b) Permit the person, or their legal guardian, or an attorney who presents a signed authorization made by the person, to inspect all personal information in the system of which they are the subject, except where prohibited by law;

(c) Inform the person of the uses made of the personal information and identify other users who have access to the system;

(d) Allow a person who wishes to exercise their rights as provided by the rule to be accompanied by an individual of their choice;

(e) Provide, for a reasonable charge, copies of any personal information the person is authorized to inspect.

(6) Investigate disputes concerning the accuracy, relevance, timeliness or completeness of personal information pursuant to section 1347.09 of the Revised Code and paragraph (D) of this rule.

(B) The board shall reprimand in writing any employee who initiates or otherwise contributes to any disciplinary or other punitive action taken against another individual who brings to the attention of appropriate authorities, the press, or a member of the public, any evidence of unauthorized use of any material contained in the personal information system. A copy of the reprimand shall be entered in the employee's personal file.

(C) The executive director shall monitor its personal information system by:

(1) Maintaining the personal information system with the accuracy, relevance, timeliness, and completeness necessary to assure fairness in any determination made by the physical therapy section which is based on information contained in the system; and,

(2) Eliminating unnecessary information from the system.

(D) The board shall investigate, upon request, the accuracy, relevance, timeliness or completeness of personal information, which is disputed by the subject of a record contained in the system, within ninety days after receipt of a request from the disputant; and,

(1) Notify the disputant of the results of the investigation and any action the board intends to take with respect to the disputed information; and,

(2) Delete any information that the section cannot verify or finds to be inaccurate; and,

(3) Permit the disputant, if they are not satisfied with the determination made by the board, to include within the system:

(a) A brief statement of the persons position on the disputed information; or,

(b) A brief statement that the person finds the information in the system to be inaccurate, irrelevant, outdated, or incomplete.

(4) The board shall maintain a copy of all statements made by a disputant.

(E) The board shall not place personal information into an interconnected and combined system, unless said system contributes to the efficiency of the agencies or organizations authorized to use the system in implementing programs which are required or authorized by law.

(F) The board shall not use personal information placed into an interconnected or combined system by another state or local agency or an organization, unless the personal information is necessary and relevant to the performance of a lawful function of the section.

(G) The board shall make available, upon request, all information concerning charges made by the section for reproduction of materials contained in its personal information system.

Computer Usage

The Board houses computer hardware and software to assist the Board staff in providing services to the public. All computer hardware and software housed within the Board offices are either owned by the Board or leased to the Board.

For purposes of this rule, Board employees are permitted access to computer equipment and systems for work related business only. Current Ohio law prohibits the use of publicly owned computer equipment for personal business. This applies to on and off duty hours. Employees using publicly owned computer equipment or systems for personal use or for reasons other than those authorized by the Board are liable for civil action and criminal prosecution. Employees also will be subject to discipline by the Board.

The Board owned or leased hardware and software may be taken from the Board offices only with the permission of the Board and may be used only for work related purposes. The Executive Director must approve the use of personally owned hardware or software on Board premises. Software purchased by the Board is utilized in accordance with the software license and applicable copyright law. Employees are not authorized to duplicate agency purchased software for personal use unless the software license permits this.

The Board reserves the right to audit computer systems to guard against inappropriate use and to assure compliance with Ohio law.

The Executive Director may review any installation, removal, transfer or purchase of computer hardware or software. Approved requests for purchase must be reviewed by the Executive Director to determine if additional approvals are required from the Office of Budget and Management, Department of Administrative Services (Division of Computer Services and State Purchasing) and/or the State Controlling Board.

All computer software relies on the integrity of the files stored on the hard drive of the computer. Never delete or modify program files. Data files that have not been modified for one year may be deleted from one's hard drive after a review by and permission of your supervisor. Some files more than one year old must be retained for archival purposes and should be backed up. Always back up important files regularly. Management should have a copy of each important file related to Board operations that is regularly used by employees.

Computer Software (Unauthorized Copying)

The Board does not condone the illegal duplication of software. The copyright law is clear. The copyright holder is given certain exclusive rights, including the right to make and distribute copies. Title 17 of the US Code states that "it is illegal to make or distribute copies of copyrighted material without authorization" (Section 106). The only exception is the users' right to make a backup copy for archival purposes (Section 117).

The law protects the exclusive rights of the copyright holder and does not give users the right to copy software unless the manufacturer does not provide a backup copy. Unauthorized duplication of software is a Federal crime. Penalties include fines of as much as $250,000, and jail terms of up to five years.

Even the users of unlawful copies suffer from their own illegal actions. They receive no documentation, no customer support and no information about product updates.

1. The Board licenses the use of computer software from a variety of outside companies. The Board does not own this software or its related documentation and, unless authorized by the software manufacturer, does not have the right to reproduce it.
2. With regard to use on local area networks or on multiple machines, Board employees shall use the software only in accordance with the license agreement.
3. Board employees learning of any misuse of software or related documentation within the Board offices shall notify the Executive Director or Board legal counsel.
4. According to the US Copyright Law, illegal reproduction of software can be subject to civil damages and criminal penalties, including fines and imprisonment. Board employees who make, acquire or use unauthorized copies of computer software shall be disciplined as appropriate under the circumstances. Such discipline may include dismissal.

E-Mail and the Internet

The E-mail system is state property and Board employees are prohibited from placing any personal, non-business information on the E-mail system. There is no personal privacy right in any communication or document created, received or stored in the E-mail system.

The E-mail system or Internet may not be used to create, transmit, or intentionally receive communications that are intimidating or unlawful, or that contain hostile, degrading, sexually explicit, or otherwise offensive references to people based on their sex, race, nationality, religion, age over 40, color, disability status, or sexual orientation. In addition, employees may not download files from the Internet or open any attached files from unknown sources without the express written approval of the Executive Director or authorized designee. Opening an attached file containing a computer virus after receipt of a notice concerning a potential virus attack is an act subject to discipline. See Directive 00-25 (Internet, Electronic Mail and Online Services Use and Abuse) issued by the Department of Administrative Services.
